IGNORED

Provision of the Charter the New Administration Will Enforce.

Civil-Service Rules for the Departments -New Controller in Office-"Deacon" Fitchey's Hard Job.

The charter of the city provides that the Mayor shall hold meetings of the heads of his departments at least once a month to consult about the welfare of the city and to devise a system for the appointment and promotion of employes. Mayor Sullivan held these cabinet meetings, but if any record of them was kept the public has never heard of it. The law provides that records shall be kept of these meetings, but the newspaper men have never been given access to such records, if any were ever kept. Mayor Denny said yesterday no records of this kind were turned over to him, and the presumption is that Mayor Sullivan violated the provisions of the charter, which is as follows:

"It is the duty of the Mayor to call together the heads of departments, except of assessment and collection, for consultation and advice upon the affairs of the city at least once a month, and to cell upon the heads of all departments for reports upon the same, which it shall be heir duty to prepare and submit in writing. Records shall be kept of such meetings above pro-vided for and rules and regulations shall be adopted thereat for the administration of the affairs of the city departments not inconsistent with any law or ordinance, which regulations shall prescribe a systematic method of ascertaining the comparative fitness of applicants for office, posi-tion and promotion, and of selecting and appointing and promoting those found to be best fitted, except in the department of Public Safety, without regard to political opinion or services."

This is found in Section 45, defining the duties of the Mayor. Times without number the Journal called the attention of Mayor Sullivan to this provision of the law, and particularly to that clause requiring the formation of civil-service rules to gov-the formation of civil-service rules to govern appointments and promotions in the various departments, but the law was persistently ignored and violated.

"I have had that provision in mind," said Mr. Denny yesterday when a Journal reporter called his attention to it. "Laws are put upon the statute books for the purpose of being enforced, and I do not regard this one as any exception. As soon as I have selected my heads of departments and they have their first meeting, I shall call their attention to this provision."

.THE NEW CONTROLLER.

Mr. Trusler Qualified Yesterday-An

Expression Upon His Policy. Preston C. Trusler yesterday qualified as city controller, giving bond in the sum of $25,000, with Henry M. Talbott and Ambrose P. Stanton as sureties. He was very busy during the day going over the books and completing the transfer of the office from the hands of Mr. Woollen, who is to leave the city Monday morning. Two of his deputies have been decided upon. George Harvey, of the internal revenue office becomes first deputy succeeding Mr. Tarkington. Charles Share, a son of George K. Share, and a young man of ability and excellent character, will succeed Sam Perrott as ac-character, will succeed Sam Perrott as accountant. There will be no other changes in the office for a few days.

"I intend to conduct the affairs of this office," said Mr. Trusler, "in such a way as to reflect credit on this administration. The deputies will be men fully competent to perform their duties and men in every way qualified for the positions. There is not enough money now in the city treasury to pay the expenses of the last election, and we will have to provide some way for paying these. After paying the temporary loans out of the taxes that will begin to come in on Nov. 1, the city will only have about $33,000 to tide it over for the rest of the year. It has been suggested that the city issue bonds, but we have not considered this matter yet."

Mr. Trusler was asked about the attack made by Catterson, Sullivan's Democratic member of the Board of Safety, upon Mr. Trusler's political record.

"I am too busy with the affairs of the controllership," said he, "to give attention to attacks made by a Democrat."

Mr. Trusler received a large number of congratulations yesterday from both Democrats and Republicans. Mr. Woollen, in speaking of the appointment yesterday, said:

"I have known Mr. Trusler for a long time He is a man of integrity and oblitic

"I have known Mr. Trusler for a long time. He is a man of integrity and ability. I have been familiar with affairs in the Council for many years, and I can say that I never knew Mr. Trusler to be in any way connected or mentioned in connection with any job. He is a very bold man in politics. There is nothing underhanded about him. He comes at you face forward. As I told Mr. Trusler to-day, the only thing I thought he ought to eliminate from his character is his partisanship."

It is reported that Mr. Woollen thought it best for the city to issue $100,000 or more in bonds to better meet the demands upon it. The tax rate has been too low to tide the city over from year to year. Mr. Woollen realized it The Council however. the city over from year to year. Mr. Woollen realized it. The Council, however, insisted in cutting down the rate to make political buncombe.

Ex-County Treasurer Backus, in speaking of the appointment yesterday afternoon, said that it was a first-class appointment, and a better one could not have been made. He said while he was treasurer he had had a great deal of business with Mr. Trusler, and knew him to be a thoroughly reliable man for the place. Mr. Trusler had handled large sums of money for the treasurer's office, and he (Backus) knew of no mistakes that had

NAMES FOR OFFICE.

Additional Men Who Are Suggested for the Administrative Boards.

Mayor Denny had but little time to consider the matter of appointing his boards, yesterday, for the stream of callers did not diminish in the least. A great many came to see about minor appointments that cannot be made until after the boards are appointed. While the Mayor is very courteous to all and is quite willing to consider all applications, yet, he should be given an opportunity to consider the make-up of his boards, before he turns his attention to the minor appointments. Mr. Denny stated, yesterday, that he would not name his boards until the latter part of the coming week. By that time President Hawkins, of the Board of Safety, will have returned from Chicago. Among the additional names that one hears as possible appointees are these:

Board of Works—John E. Cleland, E. L. Atkinson, Col. Oran Perry, H. C. Hendrickson, W. R. Clinton, W. H. H. Tuttle, Hiram G. Raffensperger and John Landers.
Board of Safety—W. H. Craft, Leon Kahn, James G. Bruce, Frank S. Bowers, Frank H. Pillet, Dr. S. A. Elbert, Albert S. Ayres, William H. Milford, E. R. Seguin, August Tanim, jr., F. B. Alley.
Building Inspector—Mr. Buchler.
City Attorney—Charles Wiltse, Newton M. Taylor.

Street Commissioner-Wm. Gansberg, jr. Among those whose names have been mentioned, but who have declined to be candidates are Richard Herrick, for the the Board of Safety, and Wm. Kothe, jr., who has been suggested as a good man for a position on one of the boards. W. H. Craft, who is a candidate for membership on the Board of Safety, was, for eight years, in a position involving similar duties. All the engines in the department were built during his regime, and, at that time, Chief Webster was put in command

"Dencon" Fitchey's Hard Work. Building Inspector Fitchey has had the hardest work of his official career during the last few days in answering men who would like to succeed him. He says that several of the candidates have abandoned the race after being informed of the burdensome duties that are attendant upon the place. He expects to be succeeded next week. It has been suggested that the system of inspectors be consolidated into one department with the building inspector as a chief. This would enable the city to do away with a number of these useless offi-cials. Fitchey's office is provided for under the charter, but his salary is fixed by an ordinance. There are a number of important jobs of public work that need careful inspection, among them the big sewer in the north end of the city. A bureau of inspection would better centralize the efforts of the force. His Application. Among the several hundred applicants for places in the police department, is one filed, yesterday, in which the applicant says he is, in politics, a "Republibunk" and weighs seventeen years.

FIRST BAPTIST STATEMENT.

The Deacons Hold a Meeting and Deny that There Is Dissension.

The item in yesterday's Journal in regard to the differences existing in the First Baptist Church was the means of calling a meeting of the deacons of the church and the pastor, Rev. W. F. Taylor, in the afternoon. As a result of the meeting a statement will be read to the congregation this morning, in effect thus: "At a foint meeting of the pastor and deacons, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided, in view of an i'em in yesterday's paper, to make the fc_owing statement to the church: That no dissension exists in the church; that no trouble has arisen between the choir and the pastor and no trouble between the choir and the church; that the deacons have never thought of attempting to dismiss the paster nor have they ever claimed the authority to do so."

This statement was signed by those present, some of them preferring to thus smooth the matter over rather than to have the story of the trouble in the church spread. The meeting of the deacons at Mr. Smock's house, referred to vesterday, was called by house, referred to yesterday, was called by Mr. Smock and Dr. Woollen, and was attended by these gentlemen and Messrs. Shellenberger, Potter, Wagner and Pickens. Messrs. Woollen and Pickens were appointed a committee to inform Dr. Taylor of the opinion of the deacons that a severance of the pastoral relations would be wise. This unpleasant duty was performed by Mr. Mr. Taylor was seen by a Journal reporter, and he said that he was very much surprised to find that there was any trouble in the church; that the trouble was one of long standing-in fact, it existed long before he became connected with the church in any way. That he did intend to resign some time was a matter that he had been considering for some time; that he thought there was an apathy in the church—in all the churches, for that matter—and a change would be a benefit all round, but whether the resigna-tion would be in two months, six months or a year was a thing of the future. NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING.

State Treasury Is Not Embarrassed-

Remainder Not Due.

The meeting of the trustees of the State Normal School adjourned yesterday morning immediately after the body enlightened themselves on a grievous error in which they involved the press yesterday. It was stated that the State owed on the improvements made during the past summer the sum of $5,000, and further that the Auditor had been unable to draw warrants for the amount. The statement, it appears, created the impression that the State is financially embarrassed, which is wholly incorrect. The State is in excellent condition financially and the Auditor is prepared to meet all the necessary expenses of the year. A few weeks ago Mr. Fanning, deputy Auditor of State, sent Treasurer McKeen, of the Normal, $5,000, which concluded the payment of $20,000, half of the amount appropriated by the last Legislature. The remainder does not fail due until next year. Through some confusion it seems that the Through some confusion it seems that the trustees were not aware that the money had been paid to the treasurer, hence the unwarranted statement.

Horticultural Society. The Marion County Agricultural and Horticultural Society held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Statehouse. The principal feature of the programme was the reading of a paper by J. W. Billingsly on "The Kind, Proportions and Management of Farm Stock."
Mr. Billingsly advanced many points that were taken up for heated discussion. His paper was considered as one of the most valuable that has ever been read before the society. The programme was followed by the exhibition of small fruits, vegetables and farm products, for which premiums, in the nature of small prizes, were awarded.

Football interest is stronger than ever in the high school this year. There is an abundance of good material for the team, which has the unqualified support of both faculty and student body. The management L srranging a series of good games with a view to placing local football in good standing and extending the reputation of the high school. A fine game is promised for the Saturday before Thanksgiving on the home grounds. The team is working hard under the direction of a coach, and will be ready for its first game in two weeks. The average weight is 150 pounds. Mr. Hugh Bryan is manager.

REED'S ACCOMPLICE.

Henry Vann, Mixed Up in the Murder of Barker, Arrested.

Harry Vann was arrested yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother, No. 72 Malott avenue, by officer Nicholson, on a charge of loitering. He was afterwards released on bond, with his mother as surety. The arrest of Vann is due to the fact that he was with Billy Reed the night the latter killed Samuel Barker, the special officer at Maennerchor Hall. Vann was merely ar-rested in order that he might be had when rested in order that he might be had when he was wanted as a witness, in case the police succeed in apprehending Reed.

After the arrest Vann made a statement to Superintedent Colbert, in which he said that he and Reed had been to a dance in the East End the night Barker was killed. After the dance they went home with a couple of young ladies. Vann says that Reed then wanted to come down town, and he (Vann) yielded to the request, and came down town with him. Reed suggested that they go to Maennerchor Hall, and Vann says he objected to that, but afterwards yielded. When Barker took them down stairs Vann says Reed remarked that he did not intend to let that gray-haired he did not intend to let that gray-haired — get him that way. He admitted that he first threw the stone and missed Barker.
Reed then threw it with fatal effect. After the stone was thrown Reed ran. Vann says the statement that he himself ran is untrue. On the contrary, he says, he helped carry Barker upstairs and did all he could to assist in reviving him.

TEACHERS' READING CIRCLE.

Course of Work for the Year Outlined Yesterday.

The committee on State teachers' and young people's reading circle work was in session yesterday afternoon at the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The meeting was called for the purpose of selecting a line of work for the coming year, and to determine just what course should be pursued. It was decided that two lines of work should be carried out, including professional and general culture lines. Also that the field of reading be limited, and that history and civics be excluded. The committee recommends that all general reading be of pure literature, and further that if suitable poetry could be found it would be preferable to prose. It is the intention to have some especially selected works bound together, and the committee, in discussing the character of these works, felt that Shakspeare ought to head the list, with selected stories from Hugo and Dickens. Of these latter classes Hugo's "Ninety-three" and a "Tale of Two Cities," by Dickens, will probably be adopted. In the professional line of reading it is proposed to select stories of a sufficient brevity to be completed in six lessons. Nothing definite was accomplished in young people's work. ried out, including professional and gen-

For Stealing Clover Seed. John Henry and Mamie Huey were arrested yesterday for grand larceny. They were accused of having carried on a systematic theft of cloverseed from the farmers near the city. Yesterday afternoon Henry went to Russe's seed store, on North Tennessee street, to sell some seed. The proprietors suspected that the seed were stolen, but took a portion of them in order to secure the arrest of Henry. He was told that if he would go to Huntington's he could sell the balance of the seed. After he left, the police were notified and arrested him. Afterwards, Mamie Huey was arrested as an accomplice
